The Carson City Airport seeks input

Carson City Airport Authority launches a survey of aviators, businesses and the community as they begin developing a plan for the future.

February 27, 2019 CARSON CITY, NV The Carson City Airport Authority has kicked off a planning process that will help chart a course for the future of the Carson City Airport. This group of 7 appointees is working to develop a plan that will establish goals for Airport operations, airport infrastructure and the Airport's role in the economic vitality of the region.

An on-line survey is now available for anyone in Carson City to complete. Here's how to access it:

1. Go to FlyCarsonCity.com, the official website of the Carson City Airport.
2. Click on the banner on the top of the home page.
3. Click on the appropriate category -
 - Citizen
 - Business
 - Government Agency
 - Airport Industrial Business
 - Pilot
 - Hangar Tenant
 - Hanger Owner
 - Fixed Base Operators

"This survey takes only 5 - 15 minutes to complete, but will provide the Airport with invaluable information as we look forward," said Linda Law, Chairwoman of the Airport Authority. "We want to insure that everyone in the community has the opportunity to tell us what they think and share their ideas for this community asset."

Responses to the survey will be accepted until March 15, 2019.

Questions can be directed to Kenneth G. Moen, Airport Manager at (775) 841-2255 or kmoen@flycarsoncity.com
